In July and October of 1981, archeological investigations were conducted at 18ST400 ahead of construction of a proposed State Veterans Home at Charlotte Hall. Construction was to include a large building, two parking lots, and a new entrance road onto the property. As part of the Charlotte Hall Historic District, the property is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Mitigation was required to determine the potential adverse affects of the proposed work on the historic property.

Project Objectives:

-Determine if and where archeological remains were present in the project area.

-Assess any impacts to those resources.

-Make site management recommendations.

Phase II	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	Phase I/II testing was undertaken at 18ST400 in 1989 ahead of proposed demolition of the 1960 Dormitory Building located on the property.	-Identify and determine the significance of any foundations and features within the remaining foundation walls of the Old Classroom building and/or beneath a brick rubble feature immediately south of the Classroom building foundation.
Phase III			-Identify resources likely to be affected by the demolition of the 1960 Dormitory building.

Research Potential:

The Charlotte Hall Site (18ST400) is a significant historical resource for understanding the structure of the school system in the late 18th, 19th and early 20th centuries in Southern Maryland. Archeological study of 18th and 19th century academy life is in its infancy. The superb archeological record at Charlotte Hall can contribute greatly to that endeavor. Any further earth-moving activities at the site should be either prohibited or closely monitored by a professional archeologist.
